

Missions Books Reading Contest

We are having a Missions Books Reading Contest. The books are located in the rack by the Children's Area. Please check a book out, read it, and return it the next week. Our goal is 150 books read. Will you help us reach that goal?

Books for this year are:

African Voices

Cold Winds, Warm Hearts

Contagious Compassion

Extreme Argentina

First a Flicker, Then a Blaze

The Tower of Babel was a Bad Idea

There are also books from 2 previous years and the Holiness Today Magazine also will count for a book read.

Alabaster Offering

February is Alabaster Offering month. We will have a Missionary Moment in the service on February 20th. You will learn about the origin of the offering and projects it funds. You are encouraged to take an offering box and fill it with your offering. On Sunday, February 27th, we will have a march to the altar to place your offering in the Alabaster Church.

Valentine's Card

Sign the Valentine's card for our LINKS Missionaries, Dave and Betsy Scott at the Missions table and see what LINKS means. They have had a medical crisis which has depleted their funds. There is an offering basket by the card. Sunday, January 30th is the last day. The card and offering will be mailed on January 31st. Thanks to Jamie Gerbrecht for making the card for us. You might want to thank her.

Faith Promise Missionaries

On Sunday, February 13th, Steve and Debbie Baker will be sharing with us in the morning worship service. They are missionaries to Mexico and are part of the border initiative of the Nazarene Missions.
